Failure to submit the required documents will be denied a refund or exchange. Once all required documents are received by Left Coast Wholesale (LCW), your Sales Rep. will communicate the next steps for what is approved for returns/exchange, and keep you updated on the progress of your claim case. Additional brand specific requirements and restrictions may apply, please make sure to review the brand specific details section below.

Be sure to include photos of damaged products, damaged boxes or shipment as well as any defective or expired products.

For returns, make sure to use appropriate packaging to ship the items safely back to LCW. Any items not packaged correctly and/or damaged on the return trip will not be accepted or covered by LCW. The customer is responsible for all shipping fees on returns unless otherwise specified. Do not return any items that have not been approved by LCW on your Claim and Return Form. Always include the approved Claim and Return Form with your return items.

Damaged Items during shipment to customer

LTL / Pallet Order Damages

If the shipment arrived largely damaged to the customer address, the customer should take photo documentation of the damaged pallet and refuse the shipment upon receipt and return to Left Coast Wholesale. Please contact your Sales Rep. immediately to communicate the refused shipment and completely describe the damages.

If the LTL/pallet is only partially damaged, make a notation on the delivery receipt that accurately describes the damage and take photo documentation of the damage to the pallet, boxes or product. Failure to note damage at the time of the delivery on the delivery receipt will result in a loss of recourse against the delivery company and will not be covered by Left Coast Wholesale. Reach out to your Sales Rep. within 48 hours with the completed Claim and Return Form, copy of the delivery receipt with the noted damages, and photos of the damage.

If damages are only detected after the pallet has been received and broken down, note the damage on the delivery receipt and reach out to your Sales Rep. on the same day with the completed Claim and Return Form with the following information:

- Pictures detailing the damage and written description of the damage
- Tracking Number/ BOL for damaged pallet
- Contact phone number and email address. Customer contact may be contacted by the carrier for further information
- A Copy of the signed Delivery Receipt / BOL for freight delivery
- Sales Order Number

- Written description of the damage
- Tracking Number of the damaged packages

Left Coast Wholesale cannot offer refunds or replacements for items that are damaged during transit that were ordered out of case quantity.

Failure to do so will result in the refusal of your RMA case and no exchange or refund will be provided. LCW will start a claim with the carrier and will update you with the next steps. LCW may request for you to send back the damaged items for inspection or repair, of which we will request that you provide us with the dimensions and weight of the return packages on the Claim and Return Form.
